You must put ALL your names and student ID’s on front cover.

Paper length should be approximately 5000 -7000 words.

It is very important that you do not simply cut and paste text from the paper into your report. You must use your own text and your own descriptions of what you are reading. You may include as many figures (from the paper or elsewhere) as you like - but these do not reduce the word count.

Outline for your paper should be along these lines

1) Summary
Summarize the paper’s main contributions and main points, and add your own view of the paper.
(Approx 300 words)

2) Introduction
In your own words introduce the paper and explain why you think (or don’t think) that the topic covered is interesting, topical and exciting.
(Approx 500 words)

3) Describe each Section of paper.
In your own words explain the main point of each section (or subsection) of the paper. If you do not describe some section explain why you have not discussed it (e.g. if not relevant or not interesting - explain why). Use figures from paper to assist your description. Properly explain everything in the figures.
(Approx 2000-3000 words)

4) Describe flaws in the paper
No work is perfect. Describe what you found weak about the paper. This may be areas where you felt the description was poor and/or hard to understand. It may be areas of the technology that were not addressed.
(Approx 500 words)

5) Describe connections of this material to other material in the course
Outline how this paper relates to other material in the course.
(Approx 500 words)
6) Outline what you have found in other related papers
Do your own literature research into at least 3 related papers and summarize their contributions and how they relate to the class paper. Properly reference all material.
(Approx 1000 words)

7) Would you accept this paper for publication?
Imagine you are a referee on this paper. Detail why you would, or would not, accept this paper for publication. Summarize weakness/strengths; presentation, clarity, completeness. etc.

(Approx 300 words)
